

Tutoring with Yale Graduate

Looking to supplement your child's schooling this fall?

I am an experienced tutor and a graduate of Yale University with a Bachelor's degree in Astronomy and in Music. I can tutor students of all ages in a range of subjects:

- Math (basics thru advanced calculus)
- Science (all areas, especially physics)
- Foreign Languages (Spanish [native speaker], & French [fluent])
- Music (saxophone, guitar, music theory, ear training, composition)
- English (reading, expository writing)

I've worked with dozens of students of all ages across the US & Canada in individual and group settings, with excellent results. I have worked with students in the New Haven public school system (K-12) as well as with college students. I welcome the opportunity to supplement your child's education in any of the above subjects.
